Real-world phishing simulation and training for your team

Disrupt's cybersecurity training is here to support and safeguard your team from phishing and cybersecurity attacks. We do this by the use of immersive simulation. We send safe phishing email attacks direct to your team, gauge their responses, then follow-up with targeted and tailored online training, based on evidential reporting.

The training is delivered online using a blend of eLearning, video and immersive bite-sized interactions.

We will create and execute robust monthly phishing and security awareness campaigns, delivering a regular stream of real-world cyber security training activities, direct to their inbox. These live simulated phishing attacks give a real-world experience, with immersive safe activities that will help you to create a strong and robust 'human firewall'.

And, as a manager, you will receive monthly reporting on the activities delivered and the responses of your team – with easy to understand reports for you to see your 'human firewall' go from good to great – protecting your business, its precious data, reputation and brand.
